

Be a Star in the Après-ski Potpourri

After the snow ball is over, a ski lodge beckons with friendly boys and party noise, and a stage for playing your own fashion role.

Toujours velour, far left, translates to a long superjump that's always chic, ski-pro sleek! Lush panne velour (deep-green as fir) pours to the floor from scooped-out suspenders. By Stringbean; about $45. Show off your best shirt, a snowy, flowy chiffon. By Lady Arrow; about $15. Burmel long scarf-tie, shoes by Nina.

Scarlet says it all, left, with holiday cheer and show-stopping charm. Here, a two-part panne velour of real-real red: pulltop opts for a V-neck trim (about $16), then slides on to a rendezvous with wide-stride pants (about $20). Topu Puku. Christa hand-crocheted cap and belts.

Ski-buff ruffles, top right, glow so in gay gypsy gold! Frilled shawl (about $13) steals bravos as it flutters softly above a bouncy flounce skirt (about $18). Both parts, by Ruth Manchester. Gordon Peters ribtop; about $9. Exotica in the lodge-light, below right, a razzle-dazzly display of eastern motifs on a quilted background. Half-sleeve poncho is buttoned and bordered in gold (about $24); plush pants play it straight (about $18). By Jovi
